

NTNU
Norwegian University of Science and Technology
Faculty of Information Technology, Mathematics and Electrical Engineering
Department of Computer and Information Science

Svein-Gunnar Johansen

Software development with limited resources in a developing country

A study of the effects of limited resources on the development of a person-based family health-system in India

Trondheim, June 2007