

Steinar Bukve Witsø

International Networking Strategies in Academic Spin-off Companies

A study of international network building processes and the roles of the top management team and board in influencing internationalization speed and international network range

Trondheim, July 2014