

The app looks great.

What I see are fixed from last time around:

- The filter issue is fixed and the items are displayed very well. Works well on both themes. (Last time, the filter output was cluttered and was not rendered well enough.)
- Chat is pretty functional now.
- The Zoom in/ zoom out works well now. (Was not working for me earlier)

There were some issues that I still see, not sure if they are still in development:

- The app did crash a couple of times. I could not reproduce it though

Confusion

- The alert notification did not work for me...Though I see a message that hovers stating "Relavent personell has been notified" , I don't see this show up in the notifications tabs ( personell spelling needs to be corrected. Not sure if I got this wrong)
- I did try toggling the alerts but I could not find any in the notifications tab
- I also tried to toggle notification in the "Notification Settings", however that still did not show any notifications in the notifications tab.

Here are some tests(though not very pragmatic for now) that I wish to share my observation on:

> Journal creation

- Looks like the "Title" does not have a maximum length for the string. I am not sure if this is by design
- When I edit the journal, I can see that the "Description" allows the "ENTER" key and by doing so, the text overflows deep down, such that I am unable to either "Save" Or "Cancel". I think this is by design. I am not sure if my screen size is the issue. I have a small handset by today's standard. It is an iphone SE (4.6 inch screen)
- I am attaching the screenshot for the same.

These are just my observations and it is quite hard for me to comment on the App, without knowing of how much functionality has been covered.

-Cheers
