

Agreement of Confidentiality between Centre for Research-based innovation in Exposed Aquaculture Operations (EXPOSED)

and

Malin Bjørkøy

This agreement of confidentiality comprises all information exchanged between consortium members of Centre for Research-based innovation in Exposed Aquaculture Operations (EXPOSED) and Malin Bjørkøy in writing, orally or in any other manner in connection with all EXPOSED-projects unless otherwise agreed upon.

All information which the Parties have received from each other in writing, orally or in any other manner, shall be treated confidentially and may not be used without a written agreement, unless the receiving Party can prove that the information was:

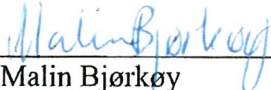

- i) publicly known at the time of receipt
- ii) known by the recipient at the time of receipt
- iii) received legally from a third party without any agreement on confidentiality
- iv) developed independently by the recipient

Disputes that may arise in connection with this Agreement or is a result thereof, shall be settled by private negotiations between the Parties. If such agreement cannot be obtained within a reasonable time period, the parties shall choose Trondheim District Court as legal venue.

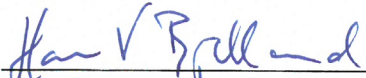

The present Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of Norway.
