1 Meeting overview

In this meeting, the report was discussed thoroughly. The improvements to the report have been written daily, thanks to the help received from the supervisors. Additionally, the poster and other details were discussed in order to improve the report's quality. From this point on, the workload will consist of only report writing and adjustment.

Multiple sections have been rewritten and the red thread throughout the report has been checked. At this point, finer adjustments, as well as plot quality and formatting, are what remain to be fixed.
