

Alterations to the original thesis

The main feedback I got on the thesis was a lack of clarity, detailedness, and scientific reasoning. The main study is unchanged and the results are unchanged.

There were edits in writing, as I worked to make more sense of the original thesis. There was also alterations in errors, such as mistakes in writing, incorrect measurements written, and unnesecary/difficult sentences.

In the discussion I also altered a bit of my wording, and added more focus on the limits/strengths, the implications of the study, and future studies.
